Fulton Elementary School celebrates a long-standing tradition of academic excellence. As a partner with students, staff, families and the community, together we cultivate a vibrant and rigorous learning environment for all of our students. The promise of preparation begins here as we challenge our students to become productive, responsible citizens and self-motivated learners. Our school improvement plan is fully aligned to the Howard County School System's Vision 2018, Fulfilling the Promise of Preparation. Every day we are striving to prepare our students so that they will be college and career ready upon graduation from high school.

Our commitment to providing a rich and rigorous education for our students is evident as you walk through the halls of Fulton Elementary School. Along with our strong K-5 program, our students receive high quality instruction in art, music, physical education, media and technology. We are home to a regional special education program for students with emotional disabilities and other behavioral related disorders. Fulton has a strong inclusive partnership with the Cedar Lane School. The art and music team members, at both schools on our campus, provide rich inclusion experiences for students at Cedar Lane and at Fulton Elementary School. Our inclusive culture strongly models acceptance and collaboration for all students.

A crucial component in the success of our school is the tremendous involvement of our PTA and community. Our PTA strongly supports the success of our students and the efforts of our staff. Our community responds generously in partnership and together we make Fulton Elementary School a great place to learn and grow!

We are proud to fully engage in the educational process with our students and their families and we work collaboratively to develop a sound, rigorous educational program that encourages academic progress.
