COLLABORATION

Education is among the most valuable community assets in Howard County. Residents take pride in the top-tier school system, which, in conjunction with the number one library system in the nation, joins an award-winning community college to provide a premier educational environment. The accolades for our schools and libraries inspire many in the community to reach even higher. Businesses, non-profit organizations, education institutions and government agencies provide significant support to HCPSS students and staff through generous donations of time, expertise and financial contributions.

Each year the Howard County Economic Development Authority arranges for Murray Hill Middle School students to become farmers for a day at a local farm. Students tour the farm and take an active part in daily farm duties and chores.

Howard County contains more than 300 farms and businesses ranging from agri-tourism to horticulture enterprises to farm-to-table food sales. Several organizations collaborate with the school system to share the important role agriculture plays in the county.

The American Institute of Wine and Food, Baltimore Chapter's Days of Taste program brings chefs and farmers into elementary school classrooms to teach students in a captivating way about the importance of fresh food and how ingredients weave their way through daily life, from farm to table.

Students visiting the Howard County Antique Farm Machinery Club, Living Farm Heritage Museum witness cornstalks being turned into fodder, which is used as food or bedding for farm animals. Students enjoy engaging in hands-on activities demonstrating the agricultural and domestic life practices of Howard County residents from the 1600s through the 1960s. They also can explore various educational nature trails and outdoor space on the farm museum's 400 acres.

In 2015, the Judy Center at Cradlerock Elementary named Howard County Department of Recreation and Parks its outstanding partner of the year for providing a variety of enriching programming for preschool children and their parents. A Judy Center partner for more than 14 years, Recreation and Parks currently offers six programs that promote various domains of learning including literacy, music, socialization, outdoor activities and other motor skills. More than 250 children have participated in these programs since 2014.

The Judy Center ensures that students are ready for school through the support of a wide variety of partners including East Columbia Preschool, Family and Children's Services of Central Maryland, FIRN, Inc., Howard County Office of Children's Services, Owen Brown Community Association, Ready At Five and more.

Two- and three-year-old preschoolers at the Judy Center move to "I'm going to shake my sillies out" in the Terrific Tots program provided by the Howard County Department of Recreation and Parks.

Each year, students at Veterans Elementary honor those for whom their school is named, the members of Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Yingling-Ridgely Post 7472. At the Veterans Day school assembly, students learn about the sacrifices veterans make to keep our country safe and thank them for their service.

HCPSS teachers collaborate with the Howard County Historical Society to inspire students to develop a sense of local history by connecting the past with the present. The Society provides programs such as Passport to the Past, where students, kindergarten through Grade 8, discover the county's past by visiting historic sites throughout the county, and Education Trunk, a trunk packed with hands-on items and information that convey the complete history of Howard County. HCPSS also collaborates with the Society to identify and loan school and educational items of historical significance for community displays.

The Columbia Association Youth and Teen Center @ The Barn provides a fun, safe way for HCPSS teens and pre-teens to socialize and participate in a variety of after-school recreational and educational programs. The students reach out and help others each fall by managing a new and gently used clothing drive that includes collection boxes at the ten village community association buildings, Columbia Art Center and Eggspiration. Last year's clothing drive served more than 500 families.

RIGOR and ACCELERATION

Rigorous content and instruction combined with opportunities for accelerated learning provide the foundation for students to develop the college and career-readiness skills necessary to thrive in the globally competitive 21st century. At each stage of their education, students acquire knowledge, abilities and confidence for success throughout life. Community partners play an important role at every step of this preparation process by providing students with relevant, real world experiences.

Recognizing the critical need for education in our increasingly complex and technologically sophisticated world, the Baltimore/Washington Corridor Chamber and National Security Agency (NSA) collaborate to support an annual conference of the Maryland Council of Teachers of Mathematics. The conference draws as many as 1,000 math education professionals to a daylong program featuring nationally recognized speakers and nearly 100 math instruction seminars and work sessions. NSA volunteers also visit schools and present a variety of interactive mathematics talks giving teachers and students real world examples of how math is used in the workplace.

Will this be the spark? HCPSS middle school science teachers know experiences such as the Space Academy can ignite a student's passion for science. The Space Academy, a program sponsored by the Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory (APL) and Discovery Education, takes students behind the scenes of space missions and introduces them to engineers and scientists working on NASA projects. Scientists guide students through a series of exploration stations that include a spacecraft mission operations center, a satellite communications facility and hands-on science demonstrations.

HCPSS and Howard Community College are teaming to offer a five-year Network Security Early College Program that allows students to earn a high school diploma, CompTIA Network+ certification, and an Associate of Arts degree in network security. With these credentials, students can enter the information technology workforce or transfer to a number of Maryland universities. The Network Security Early College Program advisory committee, including Ron Gula of Tenable Network Security (pictured), and representatives from Applied Defense Solutions, Inc., Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Laboratory, Northrop Grumman Electronic Systems, and Sofiac, offer students hands-on experience necessary for success beyond high school and ensure that the program reflects the most up-to-date information.

Annually, 200 middle school students from across the county participate in a Youth Empowerment Summit as part of the Howard County Library System's Choose Civility Symposium.

For more than a dozen years, HCPSS has benefitted from an award winning partnership with the Howard County Library System. Through A+ Partners in Education, every school is assigned a library branch and liaison, each student receives a library card through school registration and kindergarten students take a field trip to a local library. HCPSS teachers also have the opportunity to send alerts to library staff about upcoming student assignments. Additionally, the library's HiTech, Battle of the Books, Spelling Bee, Rube Goldberg Challenge and Summer Reading Club programs provide students with opportunities to extend and test their knowledge in STEM (science, technology, engineering and math), reading, spelling and ingenuity.

HCPSS hosted the 11th Annual History Day competition in March that included 179 project entries presented by 243 students, representing 18 middle and seven high schools. More than 65 teachers and staff, Board of Education members, business partners and community members served as volunteer judges.

Partners provide students with many opportunities to go beyond the curriculum to enhance their knowledge, concepts, strategies and skills. Volunteers help students prepare for a number of competitions and events such as the countywide STEM Fair, History Day, Passport to the Future interviews, Stock Market Game, MESA (mathematics, engineering and science achievement) Day, ProStart Culinary Invitational, Simulated Congressional Hearings and many more.

Each spring members of the Maryland General Assembly, Howard County Government and Howard County Council join other community officials and volunteers as judges for the elementary school Simulated Congressional Hearings, an authentic, performance-based assessment where students demonstrate their expertise on topics ranging from colonial life and government to the contemporary rights and responsibilities of citizens in our country.

Elementary school students showcased their knowledge of African American innovators at the 2nd Annual Howard County Black History Month Expo. Students used original letters, songs, interviews, pictures, and maps as well as newspaper articles and biographies to discover more about their chosen innovators. Community organizations participating in the Expo included the Continental Societies, Inc., Southeastern Howard/Laurel Chapter, League of Women Voters of Howard County and more.

*The 2nd Annual Howard County Black History Month Expo included presentations from the National Great Blacks in Wax Museum, Reginald F. Lewis Museum and Howard County Center of African American Culture.

ENGAGEMENT

Research shows that students who are engaged—inquiring, contributing and actively involved in their learning—achieve on all levels. HCPSS is fortunate to have the support of many community partners who work with educators to inspire and excite students with a broad range of relevant and authentic experiences.

Many local banks, including The Columbia Bank, PNC Bank and Sandy Spring Bank partner with schools to conduct in-school banks and help students learn financial planning and math skills needed for daily life. Fourth and fifth grade students serve as the tellers for the in-school banks. Bank representatives and other financial partners such as Capital One Bank, Howard Bank, Howard County Education Federal Credit Union, MassMutual of Greater Washington, Merrill Lynch, Northwest Savings Bank and Voya Financial participate in career days and the HCPSS Applications and Research Laboratory's centralized career academies to share information about career options in the banking industry.

Student tellers accept deposits at the Sandy Spring Bank in-school bank at Pointers Run Elementary.

The Candlelight Concert Society, Howard County Concert Orchestra and Sundays at Three boost participation in countywide middle and high school music programs by providing a variety of outreach opportunities such as mini-residencies, performances, workshops, sectionals and clinics. Each year elementary school students enjoy a full orchestra concert conducted by The Columbia Orchestra and lively and fun instrument demonstrations by the United States Army Field Band and Music & Arts.

Hundreds of HCPSS middle and elementary school students armed with nets, smartphones and collection jars canvassed Howard County's Belmont Manor and Historic Park during the weeklong HCPSS BioBlitz program sponsored by the Howard County Conservancy. Using comprehensive GPS and mapping applications, more than 30 volunteer teachers, conservancy biologists and community members joined the students to discover, count, map and learn about the biodiversity in the county's newest park. Students engaged in hands-on learning as they observed and catalogued species of birds, mammals, insects and plants.

The Candlelight Concert Society provides internationally renowned artists, such as C Street Brass Band, for school workshops.

Many partners engage with HCPSS staff to help students prepare for college and gainful, satisfying careers.

Patuxent Valley Middle School students and parents learn about the college admissions process, career opportunities, vocational careers and STEM initiatives at the Passport to Success program facilitated by the Continental Societies, Inc., Southeastern Howard/Laurel Chapter. Representatives from local businesses and organizations, such as Northrop Grumman, Howard County Department of Police and Morgan State University, share insights with middle school students about college and career paths.

Specialized work readiness programs prepare high school students receiving special education services for productive employment. A Work Enclave program provides a transition step between school and independent work for those who need a higher degree of support or supervision. Ballet Mobile provides opportunities for Atholton High School students to learn the attitudes and skills necessary to work independently by preparing flowers for their performances.

The Howard County Dental Association and Howard County Dental Hygienists' Association partner with the school system to promote good oral health care and prevention. The Associations also work with the HCPSS Academy of Health Professions staff to present information about dental careers and possible student internships.

The Dental Association's Abrushcadabrush: Magic in the Mouth show is a fun way for students in Grades K–2 to learn all of the American Dental Association recommended oral health care information.

PERFORMANCE

Howard County enjoys a well-earned reputation for excellence in education. Educational partners are important contributors and share in the credit for HCPSS student success. Countless partners make a crucial difference in the quality of education by enriching classroom lessons and expanding learners' experiences through generous donations of time, expertise and energy. Each partner adds an invaluable dimension and depth to student education, the importance of which cannot be overstated.

Hammond High School teacher Jody Zepp was named the 2014–2015 Maryland Teacher of the Year by the Maryland State Department of Education. Zepp also received the Washington Post's Agnes Meyer Outstanding Teacher Award for the county, and was the third HCPSS teacher in three years to be named as a finalist for the state's top accolade. Zepp, highly regarded for her work to increase rigor and expectations, has improved minority student enrollment in Advanced Placement courses and minority student success rates on AP and other exams.

The Center for Green Schools at the U.S. Green Building Council awarded Dunloggin Oyster Gardeners a 2014 Best of Green Schools award. Dunloggin Middle School partners with Kentmorr Marina on the Eastern Shore to care for and relocate nearly 12,000 oyster spat as part of an initiative to help clean the Chesapeake Bay.

Howard County was one of just nine districts nationally and the only Maryland system to win the 2015 U.S. Department of Education Green Ribbon Schools District Sustainability award. Fifty Howard County schools have earned the Maryland Association for Environmental and Outdoor Education (MAEOE) Maryland Green School award, which provides Green School Certification to schools who have met stringent criteria in curriculum and instruction, best management practices and community involvement in environmental education.

The Robinson Nature Center, Chesapeake Bay Foundation, greeNEWit, Howard County Conservancy and University of Maryland, Extension, Howard County Master Gardeners are just a few of the organizations partnering with schools to support green school initiatives.

Equity and equality, education innovation, and skills for a lifetime.

Each year the Bright Minds Foundation, an independent, nonprofit foundation that enhances educational opportunities for HCPSS students, awards grants to teachers and staff for projects to improve students' skills and achievement. In 2014–2015, more than 20 Howard County public school teachers and staff received funding totaling nearly $37,000 for innovative instructional projects in areas such as health and wellness; financial, economic, business and entrepreneurship; fine arts and STEM.

The Foundation recently launched two new projects. A transportation initiative at Hammond High School allowed more students to stay after school for academic support and SAT prep programs. The foundation also introduced the Bright Minds Foundation scholarship, which awards $1,000 per year for up to four years of full-time attendance at an institute of higher education to a graduating HCPSS student.

Together, HCPSS and the African American Community Roundtable (AACR) strive to eliminate achievement gaps and promote the well-being of Howard County students and families by increasing awareness and participation among African American students through academic and personal achievement educational opportunities. UMBC President Dr. Freeman Hrabowski, III, addressed the 2014–2015 Parent Empowerment Forum, held in collaboration with AACR.

Delta Sigma Theta Sorority partners with Guilford Elementary School to promote STEM skills for students in preparation for higher education and career readiness.

Howard County fraternities and sororities collaborate with teachers and school staff to develop and implement programs that promote academic excellence, motivation, self-control and social skills for students of all ages. Some of the activities provided by Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Kappa Phi Lambda Chapter; Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Tau Pi Chapter and Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Zeta Alpha Sigma Alumni Chapter, Inc. include mentoring programs, scholarships, donations to classroom libraries, annual school supply drives and reading programs.

Howard County students also receive academic encouragement, mentoring for college and career preparation, leadership opportunities, scholarships and more from local sororities such as Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Iota Lambda Omega Chapter; Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Greater Howard County Pearls; Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., Columbia, Maryland Alumnae Chapter; Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Inc., Eta Zeta Sigma Chapter and Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., Lambda Gamma Zeta Chapter.

WELL-BEING

Keeping schools safe and secure is a communitywide collaborative effort. HCPSS is fortunate to have many strong practices and partnerships in place dedicated to student and staff well-being.

"The Art of the Selfie: Seeing Beyond the Surface" was one of the recent Columbia Art Center HCPSS exhibits. Students and a handful of staff expressed their personal identity through selfie portraits.

For more than 40 years the Howard County Summer Theatre has been producing high quality, family-friendly summer musicals that provide a wide variety of theatrical opportunities for students of all ages. The Theatre also supports students by donating a portion of its ticket sales to Prepare for Success, a school supplies backpack program of the Community Action Council of Howard County, Maryland, Inc.

Participation in the fine arts is a way for students to "unplug" from a world that is increasingly hyper-connected. In addition to data that supports the premise that fine arts is a key component in improving learning, studies are finding a positive link between the arts and well-being in everyday life.

Throughout the year, HCPSS student artwork is on display at the Howard County Executive's Office, Mall in Columbia and the Howard County Center for the Arts in Ellicott City.

Numerous local theatre organizations provide a range of opportunities for students, from developing an appreciation for the Theatre to acquiring a high level of professional expertise in all aspects of the theater industry. The Drama Learning Center and Red Branch Theatre Company partner with HCPSS to bring productions to elementary and middle schools.

The Howard County Police Department offers a one day Collision Avoidance Training program that teaches teenage drivers hands-on techniques for handling a vehicle in a variety of driving situations. Baltimore Orioles catcher Matt Wieters (above) shares with River Hill High School students the dangers of texting and driving through the AT&T It Can Wait® campaign. A simulation exercise gives students firsthand experience of the dangers of texting while driving.

In addition to academics, HCPSS focuses on students' social, emotional and physical needs. HC DrugFree teams with HCPSS to provide students and parents a variety of educational programs and initiatives to help teens avoid alcohol and other drugs. Grassroots Crisis Intervention Center's Don't Do Nothing campaign educates students about the signs of suicidal thoughts and urges them to intervene if they suspect a friend is in trouble.

Partners that help the HCPSS community ensure all students are respected and valued include the Kaur Foundation and Counselors Helping (South) Asians/Indians, Inc. (CHAI). In 2015, the school system signed a partnership with PFLAG to help increase levels of understanding about topics central to gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender students, faculty and staff.

And they're off! Athletes Serving Athletes (ASA) starts the HCPSS Let's Go HoCo Community 5K and 1 Mile Fun Run. ASA offers innovative athletic training, supportive mentor relationships and high quality endurance events for athletes living with disabilities.

The annual HCPSS Let's Go HoCo Community 5K and 1 mile Fun Run promotes and supports health and wellness among HCPSS students, families, staff and all members of the community. The event offers a fun day of activity for all ages, and encourages families and children to experience the pleasures and rewards of community race events. The inaugural event was made possible through the generous sponsorship of Whole Foods Market Columbia, Horizon Foundation, Girls on the Run, Sheraton Columbia Town Center Hotel and many more.

Virgin Pulse, the market leader in the rapidly growing employee health engagement category, recognized HCPSS as one of the five employers empowering their employees to sustainably change habits, driving corporate culture and results. More than 80 percent of HCPSS employees participate in the system's Commit To Be Fit program, a prevention-based wellness program that encourages healthy habits through a combination of rewards and positive reinforcement.

The American Heart Association also recognized HCPSS as a Platinum Fit-Friendly Worksites. The association annually recognizes employers who go above and beyond when it comes to the health of their employees by demonstrating progressive leadership and concern for their staff.

Gifted and Talented

The Gifted and Talented Program provides accelerated and enriched learning opportunities to students showing exceptional ability or interest in advanced-level studies. Gifted and Talented resource teachers at the elementary and middle school level enhance the standard curriculum and provide specialized services to develop students' unique talents and aptitudes. At the high school level, intern/mentor opportunities provide a formal, site-based, academic relationship between a high school student and a professional. In this structured relationship, mentors guide students in the pursuit of knowledge and scholarly research. Program partners for the 2014–2015 school year included:

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED FOR:	WHEN:	WHERE:	HCPSS CONTACT:
JUNIOR INTERVIEWERS Every HCPSS junior develops a resume and participates in a 20-30 minute interview to fulfill World of Work graduation requirements. Throughout the year, Guidance Counselors and English Teachers assist students with career preparation skills, including resume writing, professional dress and manners, as well as interviewing strategies. Each high school guidance office coordinates many community volunteers to conduct the interviews. BLACK SAGA COMPETITION The Black Saga Competition is an exciting, fun-filled forum for students (Grades 6-8) to learn about the experiences of African Americans in the United States. School teams of up to three students each compete by studying the answers to more than 800 questions about the African American experience. HCPSS seeks volunteers to assist with running the countywide competition. PASSPORT TO THE FUTURE - INTERVIEWERS Through the Passport to the Future partnership, the Howard County Chamber of Commerce and the HCPSS share the commitment and responsibility for developing workforce-ready students who plan to pursue a career immediately after high school. Students earning Passport to the Future certification have mastered the skills necessary to be successful in work and career related experiences. One of the final requirements of the Passport program is successfully completing an “employment-like” interview. In addition to the Chamber volunteers, the HCPSS seeks local professionals to interview Passport students. Countywide HISTORY DAY - JUDGES The HCPSS annual History Day competition promotes the study of history while providing students a forum to compete for excellence in one of several categories: documentary, performance, exhibit, web page, and historical paper. Students from the county's middle and high schools participate. The HCPSS needs more than 150 qualified community volunteers to review and evaluate student work. Each volunteer will be assigned 8-10 student projects for review. Each volunteer will also interview students about their work. HCPSS provides a briefing before the event to prepare reviewers. SIMULATED CONGRESSIONAL HEARINGS - JUDGES The simulated congressional hearing is the culminating activity of the HCPSS 5th grade curricular program, “We the People: The Citizen and the Constitution.” Students play the role of constitutional experts and demonstrate their knowledge and understanding of the United States Constitution and the Bill of Rights by presenting prepared oral statements before a panel of judges. Judges are community leaders who listen to the students testify, ask follow-up questions and provide valuable feedback. Coaching opportunities are also available to help students locate resources, synthesize information, develop a speech and prepare for follow-up questions.
