Annual Report
2017-18

Howard County
Public School System

A Message from the Superintendent

Our community partners are critical to the success of every pillar of our Strategic Call to Action, Learning and Leading with Equity. Partners work closely with school leaders and teachers to engage students in experiences that support social-emotional learning and lead to career- and college readiness. These businesses and organizations connect our staff and students to experiences and expertise that vastly enhance the value of classroom learning. Their contributions of time, talent and resources increase the value of a Howard County education.

Community partners also work closely with schools and staff members to support a growing percentage of our children who are facing daunting circumstances. Partners help ensure that students come to school ready to learn. They provide school supplies, computers, and even food when school is not in session. With the generous support of our community, our students continue to meet, and very often exceed, the increasing demands of our ever-changing world.

Our school system is indebted to the hundreds of businesses, non-profit organizations and government agencies listed in these pages who contribute countless hours, immeasurable resources and invaluable expertise each year. Thank you for joining with us to prepare each Howard County student for lifelong prosperity and fulfillment.

Sincerely,

Michael J. Martirano, Ed.D.

Educational Partnerships

Community engagement and support are critical components of the Strategic Call to Action: Learning and Leading with Equity. More than 1,000 community partners work closely with HCPSS schools, curricular offices and business departments to reinforce the four overarching commitments reflected in the Strategic Call to Action: Empower, Connect, Achieve, and Value.

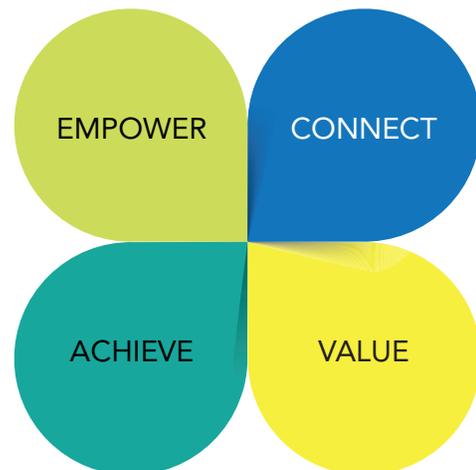

The following pages highlight partnership activities and provide examples of the vital role partners play in engaging every student to discover and reach their full potential. The strength of HCPSS is evidenced by the commitment and diversity of our partnership organizations, which are all united in having a real and positive impact on students' lives.

Learning and Leading...

“Learning and Leading with Equity: The Fierce Urgency of Now” is the school system’s strategic call to action, fueled by the commitment to ensuring that every student develops the skills, knowledge and confidence to lead a successful life and positively influence the larger community. HCPSS values the support of our partners in building an equitable, nurturing educational environment.

In collaboration with our community partners, HCPSS focuses on four overarching commitments:

- Empower: Schools, families and the community will be mutually invested in student achievement and well-being.
- Connect: Students and staff will thrive in a safe, nurturing and inclusive culture that embraces diversity.
- Achieve: An individualized focus will support every person in reaching milestones for success.
- Value: Every HCPSS stakeholder will feel happy and rewarded in their roles and take pride in cultivating the learning community.

HCPSS will continue to build connections that value students, families and colleagues and empower students to achieve success. Elementary school students raise and study monarch butterflies and the life cycles of plants through a partnership with the Howard County

Conservancy and University of Maryland, Extension, Howard County Master Gardeners. Student scientists from West Friendship Elementary connected via livestream with ecologists from the El Rosario Monarch Sanctuary in Mexico to investigate concerns about the migration of the monarchs to Mexico. Then students throughout the county used the information along with their own observations and research to determine why monarchs are struggling and how humans can help or harm their migration.

with EQUITY

ACHIEVE

School system staff work with the community to provide a variety of opportunities to support students in achieving their dreams. HCPSS partner HowGirlsCode introduces elementary school girls to coding.

HowGirlsCode helps combat the gender gap by encouraging girls to see a place for themselves in the world of computer science and to see a place for computer science in their worlds. The school system also teams with UMBC Center for Cybersecurity to offer professional development for high school teachers and to make computer and technology curriculum inviting to all students.

CONNECT

HCPSS is committed to creating a nurturing school culture so every student is supported and thrives. The school system is fortunate to collaborate with Howard County Government to promote community dialogue and reinforce shared goals of diversity and inclusiveness through the #OneHoward initiative. Long Reach High School students participate in One Long Reach Day — a day of team-building activities aimed to create positive relationships, challenge marginalization and promote inclusion. Celebration Church representatives volunteer at this program and other events to assist with student leadership development and diversity training, and to inspire interest in restorative justice initiatives.

VALUE

Teachers and staff take pride in their profession and appreciate opportunities to enhance the learning community by conferring with leaders in their fields. The Bright Minds Foundation and HCPSS hosted Computer Science: Envisioning

Tomorrow's Careers, a program recognizing a virtual reality equipment donation from Brendan Iribe, Oculus Virtual Reality founder. Iribe spoke about the future of computer science education, and a panel of HCPSS technology partners including National Security Agency, UMBC, Applied Defense Solutions, Gula Tech Adventures and IntelliGenesis, shared their perspectives on the skills tomorrow's technology workforce will need. Partners VersaTech Inc., Sofiac, Leidos, Steer Tech, and many more attended the event, interacted with students and contributed to the discussion.

Empower

Howard County residents proudly claim education as one of our most valuable community assets. The community enthusiastically invests in education delivered by a top-tier public school system, an award-winning community college and the number one library system in the nation.

Businesses, non-profit organizations, education institutions and government agencies provide significant supports for student achievement and well-being through generous donations of time, expertise and financial contributions.

A+ Partners in Education, a comprehensive partnership with the Howard County Library System (HCLS), supports student academic success by assigning every HCPSS school a HCLS branch and liaison, collaborating on curriculum and signature events such as the Spelling Bee, Battle of the Books and Rube Goldberg Challenge, providing kindergarten field trips to the local library branch and more. The partnership also provides every student with a library card at school registration. This year, HCLS and HCPSS enhanced this benefit by issuing all students (Pre-K–12) a new A+ Student Card account number, which allows students to access the library system’s extensive catalog of electronic resources anywhere or any time they need to do homework or research. The card provides students with full customer privileges at all HCLS branches and enables students to use just one number for all of their library needs.

In June 2018, the first cohort of 12 HCPSS high school students graduated from the Independent Electrical Contractors Pre-Apprenticeship Student Pathways program. The Maryland Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation; Independent Electrical Contractors, Chesapeake and Howard County Office of Workforce Development offered the unique program to prepare students for a prosperous career and to alleviate the national shortage of qualified electricians. Students learned from certified electricians in a classroom setting while gaining valuable industry knowledge, OSHA 10 certification and direct entry to the Independent Electrical Contractors Registered Apprenticeship program.

Educators understand that a child's brain begins learning and growing from the earliest moments of life. Because of this, school system staff foster partnerships that help the entire community nurture early learning. HCPSS collaborates with Howard County Government agencies to lead Launch Into Learning, an early learning effort to connect parents, caregivers, education and child care programs, businesses, and county agencies with information about early learning.

The Howard County Early Childhood Advisory Council, a community partnership led jointly by HCPSS and the Howard County Office of Children and Families, hosted the inaugural State of Early Child Care and Education in Howard County event. At the event, Superintendent Martirano introduced Talk With Me • Howard County, a new initiative that provides resources, tools and techniques for parents and caregivers to use with young children to stimulate intellectual growth. Howard County General Hospital, A Member of Johns Hopkins Medicine is supporting the initiative by sharing information during obstetric tours and mother/baby classes, in letters to mothers who deliver at the hospital, and on televisions in the hospital patient and waiting rooms.

Each year members of the Howard County Early Childhood Advisory Council, including the Howard County Chamber of Commerce, Howard County Library System, Custom Media Options, Head Start of Howard County, Innovations in Education, Judy Center at Cradlerock Elementary and many more host an annual Children's Discovery Fair for children ages 3-5 to promote school readiness. The celebration features hands-on activities, games, songs, crafts and stories relating to pre-school science, arts and math concepts.

Additionally, many HCPSS partners, including Glenelg Country School, Hilltop Child Care Center, KinderCare Learning Center and Howard County Family Child Care Association, participate in the Howard County Office of Children and Families annual Preschool/Child Care Information Fair to give parents, guardians, grandparents and child care personnel a "one-stop shop" for information on child care, pre-school and summer programs, as well as the opportunity for personal contact with teachers and program directors.

Connect

Students who are engaged in a safe, nurturing and inclusive culture achieve on all levels. HCPSS benefits from the support of community partners whose diversity reflects the larger community and who work with educators to inspire students with a broad range of relevant and authentic experiences.

HCPSS collaborates with the African American Community Roundtable; Conexiones; FIRN; Heritage Housing Partners Corporation; NAACP, Howard County Branch; The Council of Elders of the Black Community of Howard County and others to create an environment where all students can excel as leaders, conquer challenges of the 21st century and become college and career ready. Recently, HCPSS joined with Changing Destinations: Journey to Excellence to enhance interest in other cultures and form cultural and social competencies by organizing a pen pal program for middle school students in Uganda.

Keeping schools safe and secure is a communitywide collaborative effort. HCPSS appreciates the steadfast support of Howard County Department of Police and Howard County Department of Fire and Rescue Services (HCDFRS) to provide a safe, healthy and nurturing school environment. The Department of Police has a longstanding history of helping HCPSS develop emergency plans, train staff, conduct safety drills and practice responses to various emergencies.

HCDFRS recently linked every school with a neighborhood fire station so that students and staff may get to know their nearby first responders. Firefighters and paramedics join the students for lunch, serve as positive role models and offer age-appropriate risk-reduction strategies and life safety programs.

Twenty sophomore girls from Hammond and Reservoir high schools attended a Discovering Your Path event hosted by the Howard County Women's Bar Association at Howard Community College. The event encourages female students to set high-reaching goals and to collaborate with successful women to set practical steps for achieving their goals. The students started the day by touring the campus and later heard about the career journey of keynote speaker Takia Ross of Accessmatized.

Exchanging information with a wide variety of stakeholders is important to ensure that the school system reflects the interests of the community. Each year, the Superintendent engages with members of Leadership Howard County, Howard County Chamber of Commerce, Association of Community Services of Howard County and many others to share information and hear their thoughts and perspectives. Superintendent Michael J. Martirano encourages businesses and organizations within the community to work with the school system to ensure that all students are college and career ready.

Teachers begin their HCPSS career at New Teacher Orientation and then continue to fine-tune their skills and expertise through ongoing professional learning opportunities. Johns Hopkins University; Loyola University Maryland; McDaniel College; Morgan State University; Notre Dame of Maryland University; and University of Maryland, College Park are just a handful of the higher education institutions joining with HCPSS to provide academic and clinical preparation and leadership development for teachers.

Achieve

A challenging curriculum, combined with opportunities for individualized learning, provides the foundation for students to develop the college and career readiness skills necessary to thrive in the globally competitive 21st century. Community partners play an important role in helping students reach milestones by providing students with the essential resources and relevant, real-world experiences they need to be successful.

In 2014, HCPSS and Howard Community College started an early college program in cybersecurity to enable participating students to earn college credits and prepare for a career while enrolled in high school. Two years later, the early college offerings grew to include Early College STEM. Industry leaders, including Atlantic Data Forensics, Booz Allen Hamilton Inc., Northrop Grumman Electronic Systems, Secure Innovations and others, support the programs by offering internships and helping students prepare for industry certifications, national cyber competitions and job interviews.

The overwhelming success of the early college program led HCPSS and HCC to announce a more extensive dual enrollment program for the 2018–19 school year: JumpStart. The innovative program gives more high school students a valuable head start in earning college credits or preparing for a career in areas such as computer science, criminal justice, entrepreneurship, general studies, secondary teaching, public health or health sciences, at a greatly reduced cost.

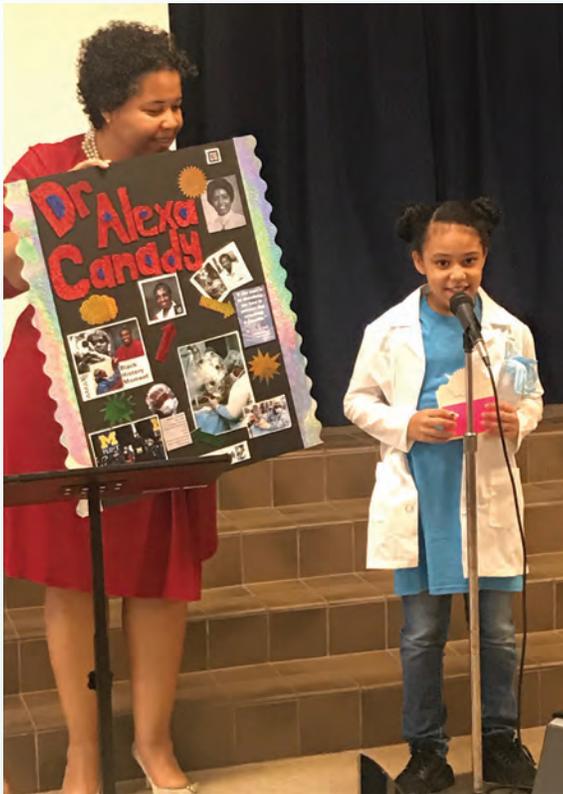

Project SEARCH Howard County is a collaborative effort with Howard County Government, Arc of Howard County, Maryland State Department of Education's Division of Rehabilitation Services and Howard County Autism Society to provide full-time career exploration in a business setting. The one-year transition program benefits young adults with intellectual or developmental disabilities who are in their last year of high school.

Athelas Institute, Inc., Center for Social Change, Community Options, Inc., Humanim and HCPSS Special Education staff work together to provide a wide variety of programs for students in need of comprehensive career development and support services. These programs provide job readiness training, job coaching services, support in learning appropriate work behaviors, and services to meet the needs of youth as they transition to adulthood. High school seniors in the Start On Success (SOS) and Work Experience Students to Employment Program (WE STEP) complete internships at the Y in Central Maryland, Dancel Family Center; Abrakadoodle Art Center; Howard County General Hospital, A Member of Johns Hopkins Medicine or Howard County Community College.

Students and teachers benefit from a strong relationship with Howard County fraternities and sororities. Members of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Kappa Phi Lambda Chapter; Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Tau Pi Chapter and Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Zeta Alpha Sigma Alumni Chapter, Inc. provide mentoring programs, scholarships, donations to classroom libraries, annual school supply drives and reading programs.

Since 2014, the Columbia (MD) Alumnae Chapter, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority has partnered with Guilford Elementary to promote advanced STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) skills for students in preparation for higher education and career-readiness. Other sororities, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Iota Lambda Omega Chapter and Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., Lambda Gamma Zeta Chapter provide backpacks of food for students over the weekend as well as academic encouragement, college and career preparation, leadership opportunities, scholarships and more.

The Howard County Local Children's Board (LCB) and HCPSS coordinate efforts to support students needing academic reinforcement, mental health services, food assistance or shelter. LCB's targeted support funded keeping the Oakland Mills Middle School library open during the summer. Community members of all ages could visit the library to read, use a computer, hear a story, or play a board game. LCB also sponsored a Summer Math Acceleration Camp for 66 teacher-identified students who, with extra assistance, will be on track to reach algebra proficiency benchmarks. The program provides free breakfast and lunch and afternoon enrichment activities including theater, visual and culinary arts, and martial arts by Leaders of Tomorrow Youth Center.

The Oakland Mills programs are part of Howard County's Achieve 24/7 educational initiative to help narrow academic achievement gaps. Two earlier initiatives include the Weekend Warrior free food program and Ready Rosie, an early childhood education readiness effort.

Value

Howard County organizations and companies have a reputation for working together to ensure that our community is a great place to live, learn and work. Community stakeholders include more than 1,000 partners, representing businesses, non-profits, government agencies, civic clubs, colleges and universities, faith-based groups, military commands, trade associations and professional organizations, which help cultivate a learning community that is nationally recognized. Education truly is a community effort in Howard County.

HCPSS joins with community partners to provide opportunities for students and staff to shine as performers. Maryland Winds, United States Navy Band, Candlelight Concert Society, Sundays At Three, United States Army Field Band and others engage with students through adjudications, large ensemble clinics, master classes and side-by-side playing. Additional community partners invite staff and students to perform at professional venues such as Seasons 52 for the Teachers as Artists music performance series, Inner Arbor Trust at the Chrysalis, and Downtown Columbia Arts and Culture Commission at Merriweather Post Pavilion.

Junior Achievement of Central Maryland partners with HCPSS to enhance learning by coordinating job shadow days for both students and teachers. Visits to Alliance Technology Group, Harris Corporation, Maryland Live!, Nielsen and Southwest Airlines provide high school students and teachers a behind-the-scenes tour of the company, information about industry trends, desired skills for new employees and entry-level opportunities for students.

When visiting businesses, students meet people similar to themselves who are successful and happy in their careers. They learn the requirements of working and possible paths for achieving their goals. Teachers observe the soft skills and specific knowledge required of a company's employees, identify ideas for linking the classroom to the business world and create relationships that can lead to future sharing of expertise and resources.

The entire Howard County community comes together to ensure that all students start school with the school supplies they need to succeed. Prepare for Success, a program of the Community Action Council of Howard County, coordinates a countywide school supply drive that has evolved into a year-round activity. During the school year, students with disabilities develop work skills by organizing supplies and packing backpacks. Each spring, students at the Columbia Association Before and After School program decorate collection boxes that are placed strategically around the county each July at Howard County Library branches, Howard County Department of Recreation and Parks locations, Columbia Association sites, Columbia Village Center offices and several businesses. Members of the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, Inc., Zeta Alpha Sigma Alumni Chapter, Inc. pick up the collection boxes in August. Next, volunteers, faith groups and students from several high school athletic teams organize the supplies, group the backpacks for the target schools and then load the backpacks into a Howard County Food Bank truck for delivery to the schools.

Universities Space Research Association (USRA) inspires, engages and develops the next generation of scientists and technologists through science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM) programs available at the USRA STEMaction Center. Last year, more than 600 teams comprising 5,000 students participated in 40 robotics events. The Association also helps students see higher education as a possibility by offering an ACT preparation program for select students at no cost.

The largest private employer in Howard County shares with students the thrill and rewards of using STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) skills to make a difference in their community and the world. Johns Hopkins University Applied Physics Lab (APL) collaborates with HCPSS teachers and parents to help approximately 2,000 Howard County students develop their potential in STEM-related fields through a wide range of time-honored programs. The ASPIRE High School Mentoring program matches high school juniors and seniors with APL staff to work on technical projects and the APL STEM Academy identifies and develops STEM talent to increase the diversity of students pursuing STEM majors and careers. Each spring, the annual Girl Power STEM expo features activities, demonstrations and take-home material for middle and high school girls to encourage an interest in STEM careers. The Maryland MESA (Mathematics, Engineering, Science Achievement) before- or after-school program provides hands-on applications of math, engineering, science and technology projects for students, culminating with regional and statewide competitions.

Each year, the Howard County Conservancy works with teams of high school students to study and assess Howard County streams and watersheds, and their impact on the Chesapeake Bay. The students work as professional scientists to develop researchable questions, collect and analyze data, collaborate, and communicate their findings. National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and others support the project with grants for student-led schoolyard improvements, including native plant gardens and stenciling storm drains at every county high school.
