2018-19 Annual Report

Howard County
Public School System

A Message from the Superintendent

Our community partners are critical to our work as we seek to fulfill our Strategic Call to Action: Learning and Leading with Equity. Partners support our ability to uplift each student’s skills, talents and abilities, while embracing their differences as strengths that enhance the overall school community. These businesses and organizations connect our staff and students to experiences and expertise that enhance the quality of classroom learning, support social-emotional learning, and lead to career- and college readiness. Our partners’ contributions of time, talent and resources increase the value of a Howard County education.

Our school system is indebted to the hundreds of businesses, non-profit organizations and government agencies listed in these pages who contribute countless hours, immeasurable resources and invaluable expertise each year. Thank you for joining with us to prepare each Howard County student for lifelong prosperity and fulfillment.

Sincerely,

Michael J. Martirano, Ed.D.

Educational Partnerships

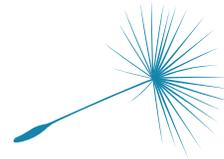

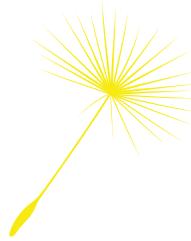

2018–19 Annual Report

The Howard County Public School System's (HCPSS) Strategic Call to Action: Learning and Leading with Equity serves as the foundation for all HCPSS decisions. The strategic plan reflects the priorities of our students, staff, families and community partners because each play an important role in fulfilling our mission, vision and goals.

Our Educational Partnerships Annual Report, 2018–19 highlights how more than 1,000 businesses, nonprofits, government agencies and other community organizations have joined with HCPSS schools and program offices to support Equity, Diversity, Student-Centered Practices, Inclusive Relationships, and Responsive and Efficient Operations. Together we prepare every child to achieve.

EQUITY

The foundation of Learning and Leading with Equity: The Fierce Urgency of Now is providing the access, opportunities and supports to help students, families and staff reach their full potential by removing barriers to success.

Famed urban planner Jim Rouse included equity as a core component of his vision for developing "a garden for growing people"—the planned community of Columbia. This value continues as many community organizations join with HCPSS to uplift the talents, abilities and experiences that make each individual unique.

Having a caring, positive role model can make a significant impact on the lives of students. Leadership Howard County invited HCPSS students to their Big Event to hear author Liz Murray's inspiring story of going from "homeless to Harvard," and the important role that teachers played during her journey.

Hundreds of HCPSS students benefit from the support of Howard County fraternities and sororities who collaborate with school staff to promote academic excellence, motivation, college preparation and leadership skills. Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity are just a sampling of the Panhellenic organizations providing mentoring programs, scholarships, donations to classrooms, annual school supply drives and reading programs.

For more than 15 years, HCPSS has benefitted from the award winning A+ Partners in Education partnership with the Howard County Library System (HCLS). The A+ student card gives every student automatic, direct access to HCLS eContent and materials to use for class projects and homework assignments. The libraries offer opportunities for students to participate in programs ranging from reading and spelling to STEM (science, technology, engineering and math) and ingenuity challenges.

The Central Branch hosted high school students at its interactive Undesign the Redline exhibit, which explored how the effects of structural racism and classism in real estate and lending in the 1930s have persisted until today. Exhibit participants were encouraged to combat discrimination and dismantle unjust policies and practices.

In celebration of Martin Luther King, Jr.'s legacy, staff from Johns Hopkins University (JHU) participated in their second annual day of service by volunteering at the Homewood Center. JHU staff organized storage closets, sorted items in a food pantry, installed bulletin boards, inventoried library books and restored artwork tables. Homewood staff especially appreciated the volunteers' service, as their school does not have a PTA.

Nearly one fourth of Howard County students qualify for federally funded free and reduced meals (FARMs) provided by the school system. HCPSS is collaborating with Comcast to help get the word out about the variety of services available to students eligible for FARMs, such as free SAT and ACT registration fees, reduced summer camp fees and discounted internet access.

Programs of the Community Action Council of Howard County—Prepare for Success, Head Start and Food Bank—offer essential assistance for school supplies, preschool and food so that students can come to school ready to learn.

HCPSS encourages all students to develop their passion for the arts and perform within the community. The Inner Arbor Trust hosts an annual Jazz in the Woods event at the Chrysalis in Merriweather Park for middle and high school musicians. Professional musicians from the Columbia Orchestra, Strathmore, Maryland Winds and many others play side-by-side with students at local concerts.

For more than 10 years, Oakland Mills Middle School students and staff have been volunteering with Rebuilding Together Howard County to complete renovation projects and urgent repairs for county homeowners. Through this initiative, students help create safe, warm and healthy homes for community members in need.

DIVERSITY

At HCPSS, embracing diversity means recognizing, accepting and respecting that individuals come from many different life experiences with various frames of reference. While we value unique perspectives and individual differences, we also value the commonalities we all share. Community organizations contribute their expertise and initiatives to help HCPSS advance and embrace diversity among students, teachers and staff.

Since the 1950s, the county's population has diversified and increased more than tenfold, making HCPSS a majority-minority school system. To help ensure that the system reflects the diverse values and unique perspectives of the community, Superintendent Michael J. Martirano created a Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Advisory Board. Members of the advisory, including representatives from the African American Community Roundtable, Howard County Muslim Council, Jewish Federation of Howard County, NAACP Howard County Branch, People Acting Together in Howard (PATH), PFLAG Columbia-Howard County and others meet with the Superintendent to provide guidance on how to better foster an inclusive learning and work environment and to grow a diversified workforce.

Local businesses are looking for new talent while diversifying their workforce. The Superintendent's Program Innovation Advisory Board connects industry leaders with educators to provide robust program offerings and align curriculum with industry trends, so students are prepared to participate in the workforce of the 21st century. The Fort Meade Alliance, IntelliGenesis, KCI Technologies, Leidos, National Security Agency, STEER Tech and U.S. Cyber Command all emphasize the need to encourage more students, and especially students not currently represented, to pursue STEM fields. Members of the Alliance spoke to students about career opportunities in information technology, engineering and cybersecurity, plus the skills and decision-making necessary to obtain a security clearance.

The Howard County Board of Elections, League of Women Voters and Howard County Women's Bar Association share the goal of developing youth to express their opinions and engage in civic participation. Each year, the Howard County Board of Elections visits each HCPSS high school to register eligible students to vote and let them know about opportunities to be an election judge. In 2018, more than 140 students served as election judges in their local communities.

Parent involvement is a critical component to student success. The Chinese American Parent Association of Howard County (CAPA), Chinese Language School of Columbia (CLSC), CONEXIONES and Howard County Chinese School (HCCS) assist parents in understanding American education systems and provide tips for engaging effectively with their child's teachers and school. CAPA, CLSC and HCCS also host community celebrations to increase understanding and appreciation of diverse cultures.

The school system's curriculum, updated annually by Howard County teachers, incorporates diverse perspectives throughout a student's academic journey. Integrating multiple viewpoints into the curriculum honors the growing diversity of the student body and provides all students with a more complete and well-rounded education. The Middle States Council for Social Studies recently recognized the HCPSS elementary social studies team for their innovative programming, such as the Simulated Congressional Hearings and Unheard Perspectives Showcase.

The Simulated Congressional Hearing (SCH) is a culminating activity where fifth grade students prepare oral testimony before a panel of simulated congressional committee members ("judges"). Hundreds of representatives, including those from the Howard County Executive Office, Howard County Council, Howard County Office of the State's Attorney, Maryland General Assembly and many other organizations, serve as judges. Howard County remains a national leader in implementation of the SCH at the elementary level.

The annual Unheard Perspectives Showcase features students in Grades 3–5 who answered the question, "Which African-American innovator has had a significant impact on your life?" The National Great Blacks in Wax Museum, Howard County Historical Society, Maryland Historical Society, Center for Civic Education and others serve as resources for students preparing for the performance-based challenge.

STUDENT-Centered Practices

Students are at the forefront of every HCPSS strategy and decision, with staff working to help students develop the knowledge, skills and confidence they will need for success throughout life. HCPSS stakeholders provide enhancements to the curriculum and learning opportunities that connect directly to students' interests, unique strengths and needs. Businesses and organizations help shape the workforce of the future by mentoring students with expert professional guidance in a particular field of study, teaching practical skills and providing contacts that can prove invaluable to future success.

JumpStart, offered in partnership with Howard Community College, gives students a head start in earning a college degree or industry certification and opens doors to higher education for many students at a greatly reduced cost. Last year, more than 1,300 HCPSS students were enrolled in the JumpStart Dual Enrollment program, taking approximately 2,450 college courses.

The Junior Officer Training Corps (JROTC) is a cooperative effort between HCPSS and the U.S. Army at Atholton and Howard high schools and the U.S. Air Force at Oakland Mills High School. JROTC students develop leadership, integrity, essential life skills, and effective career skills through hands-on projects and service learning. Students who choose to join the military following high school may do so with advanced placement credit at a college level ROTC program or advanced rank in any of the Armed Forces.

Seventeen rising HCPSS seniors will participate in the school system's newest Career and Technology Education academy, Apprenticeship Maryland. The youth apprenticeship program provides students the opportunity to "earn and learn" through on-the-job training and related instruction that can lead to certification, licensing, and in some cases, the completion of year one of a registered apprenticeship. The benefits for the participating businesses, Howard Tech Advisors, Humanim, Salon Tusey, Mead Tree & Turf Care, Rommell Construction and others, include development of a skilled pipeline, increased employee retention and reduced turnover costs.

Research shows that students who are engaged—inquiring, contributing and actively involved in their learning—achieve on all levels. HCPSS is fortunate to have the support of many community partners who work with educators to inspire and excite students with a broad range of relevant and authentic experiences.

Each year, the Howard County Living Farm Heritage Museum hosts Our Environment in Our Hands, a program for more than 500 fourth grade students to explore concepts such as stream health, soil health and Maryland native wildlife. Approximately 50 volunteers from many county organizations, including Howard County Master Gardeners and Master Naturalists, Howard County Watershed Stewards Academy, Howard County Office of Community Sustainability and Howard County Soil Conservation District guide students through a variety of field experiences, designed by the HCPSS Elementary Science Office.

The Robinson Nature Center, Annapolis Maritime Museum & Park and Maryland Agricultural Education Foundation also offer outdoor education experiences that help develop and strengthen students' appreciation of nature and passion for environmental stewardship.

For more than 15 years, the Howard County Conservancy and HCPSS have worked together to give students hands-on experiences to learn about the wonders of the natural world, land preservation and responsible environmental stewardship. More than 18,000 students visit the Conservancy each year to learn about the local watershed, soil science, monarch butterfly migration, Maryland reptile and amphibian habitats, the importance of biodiversity and more. Additionally, Howard County officials and community leaders look forward to receiving the annual Howard County Watershed Report Card produced by HCPSS ninth grade student scientists who collect and analyze local schoolyard and stream data, while examining local policies.

Gifted and Talented students can learn advanced research-level methodologies, college-level writing and oral presentation skills by working with business leaders on an original research study or creative production. Potomac Valley Orthopaedic Associates, Aerotek, American Film Institute, National Institutes of Health, TLV Tree Farm and U.S. Army Research Laboratory are just a handful of partners providing students real-world experience and knowledge in preparation for a possible career.

INCLUSIVE Relationships

HCPSS is committed to ensuring that all students, families, staff and community are engaged participants in the learning environment. Active partners affect the quality of school life by supporting an inclusive, safe and nurturing school climate that motivates students to achieve academically and promotes healthy youth development.

Approximately 150 students participate each year in Passport to the Future, a workforce preparation program for students seeking to graduate from high school with practical workplace skills. Students present their portfolio to a business leader during a simulated job interview at Howard Community College, and those who pass are certified workforce-ready.

In 2016, the Howard County Human Resources Society (HoCoHRS) assumed the leadership role for the Passport program. HoCoHRS keeps HCPSS students and teachers up-to-date on workplace readiness strategies such as effective use of social media for job searches, skills job recruiters are seeking, writing an effective electronic resume, etc. Each year, HoCoHRS recruits enough volunteers, so that all students interview with a member of the business community.

HoCoHRS extended its partnership with HCPSS to include a professional development conference for HCPSS human resources staff and an open invitation for them to attend HoCoHRS meetings to gain a better understanding of new issues, current and future trends, and best practices.

Local faith-based organizations join with school administrators to promote positive school culture and build strong community relationships. St. John United Church and the Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity look forward each year to making every student at Bryant Woods Elementary School feel valued by clapping and cheering for them as they begin a new school year. St. John's along with First Evangelical Lutheran Church, City on a Hill Community Church, Grace Community Church, Bethel Baptist Church and other faith-based organizations collect school supplies, clothing, food, and gift items for students and their families.

Last spring, 90 National Honor Society students from Wilde Lake High School visited Merriweather Post Pavilion to participate in a day of leadership and service hosted by The Howard Hughes Corporation (HHC). The students toured the concert venue, participated in leadership exercises led by Jean Moon & Associates, and worked with Howard EcoWorks to plant trees. Executives from HHC, County Executive's Office, Columbia Association, unique qualities and abilities to develop a personal leadership style.

Inner Arbor Trust, Downtown Columbia Arts and Culture Commission and Merriweather Post Pavilion shared with students how they use their unique qualities and abilities to develop a personal leadership style.

The Howard County Department of Fire and Rescue Services team is dedicated to ensuring that students learn in a safe and nurturing community. Firefighters visit their local elementary school to help build positive relationships in a relaxed environment. Last year, Fire Chief Christine Uhlhorn and first responders stopped by elementary schools to greet arriving children, read to students and model a love of learning.

Since starting in 2011, the HCPSS Allied Sports program has grown to include nearly 500 students competing in soccer, bowling, softball and golf. Allied Sports is an inclusive program that gives students with disabilities an opportunity to participate in interscholastic sports with non-disabled peers. Partnerships with Fairway Hills Golf Club, The First Tee of Howard County and Brunswick Zone Normandy help make the program possible.

Extracurricular opportunities extend to the arts. Glenelg High School has a long-standing partnership with the Columbia Center for Theatrical Arts for Glenelg Broadway Connections, a peer and special needs theater club. Students with disabilities practice singing, acting and dancing alongside their non-disabled peers to perform an annual stage production.

RESPONSIVE & EFFICIENT Operations

HCPSS strives for transparent, effective and fiscally responsible organizational processes to equitably allocate educational resources and support the achievement of all students and staff. Community stakeholders serve as key players in the school system's continuous improvement efforts by providing relevant professional learning and leadership development, and valuing teachers and staff.

A longtime supporter of the community, Apple Ford recognizes the importance of education and the role the school system plays in Howard County. This past year, HCPSS Teacher of the Year Sylvia Hennessie was surprised with a new Ford EcoSport as part of an enhanced partnership between the school system and Apple Ford. The popular community advocate is also offering discounts to HCPSS staff and internships for high school students.

Prime Manufacturing Technologies hosted a Professional Learning Day for Project Lead the Way Computer Integrated Manufacturing educators. Teachers toured the manufacturer's operations and learned about the digital manufacturing process as well as desired skills, industry trends and career opportunities. The teachers appreciated the hands-on learning and discussion with an industry expert, and shared that the experience will enhance their lesson plans and guidance to students.

The Bright Minds Foundation, the school system's educational foundation, works to enhance educational opportunities for all children attending Howard County public schools.

The Foundation donates computers to students who lack access to technology at home, funds annual staff and teacher grants that support innovative instructional projects, awards student scholarships, provides one book a month to children up to age five through Read With Me • Howard County, and covers the costs of books and fees for income-eligible JumpStart dual-enrollment students.

Bright Minds hosts a number of events to fund their initiatives, and more recently, to recognize the school system, teachers and staff. The Foundation invites the community to hear from and engage with the Superintendent and his leadership team at the annual State of the Schools breakfast.

Last May, Bright Minds hosted the first annual Night of Honor to recognize outstanding HCPSS staff and alumni. The event celebrated the Principal of the Year and Teachers of the Year and the recipients of the new Work Hard Be Kind Award for staff and the Work Hard Be Kind Outstanding Alumni Award.

Environmentally conscious students understand the impact their actions have on the earth. For the past five years, seven HCPSS schools have collected leftover food in their cafeteria and composted the scraps with the assistance of Howard County Environmental Services. The students compost more than four tons of material annually. As the County's composting facility doubles its capacity and ability to serve more county households, the students at these schools will be ambassadors advocating the environmental benefits of seemingly small household changes.

Career and Technology Education

Career and Technology Education (CTE) offers a variety of programs, either school-based or at the centralized Applications Research Lab (ARL), that prepare students to be successful in a career field of their choosing. CTE programs integrate the strengths of an academic education with the practical benefits of career and technology education. With the guidance of advisors and industry mentors, students have the unique opportunity to explore a career interest in-depth during high school. CTE partners for the 2018-19 school year included:

Factors outside of the classroom can affect student success. A new partnership with Building Families for Children offers resources for families facing crisis. Volunteers temporarily provide housing for children while mentoring parents to help them achieve their goals. Building Families also supports families by collecting and distributing backpacks full of school supplies to six Howard County schools. These supportive relationships provide the safety net some vulnerable families need to continue on the path to long-term stability.
